Forty years since, Elder Downs first manufactured his Elixir in Northern Vermont, and its remarkable cures at once brought it prominently before the people of the United States and Canada. No other medicine has maintained such an enviable reputation for such a length of time. While the sale has rapidly increased every year, other medicines have been popular for a few months or years, but their lack of intrinsic value has consigned them to comparative oblivion. In justice to Downs' Elixir, be it said, that it is a duty the people owe to themselves that they continue to use the article that has always cured them of their coughs and colds, rather than to take or try every new medicine that is puffed up, and may be worthless. N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the price paid will be refunded, by the agents, to the purchaser.

SPECIAL DIRECTIONS FOR USING

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR.

In all cases shake the Bottle well before using.

COMMON COLD.—Dose for an adult should be a large tea-spoonful after shaking the bottle, on going to bed, and half the amount in the morning; and if the pressure of the lungs continues, the dose may be repeated once an hour until the patient is relieved. And as there is a great variety of constitutions, as a general remark we would observe, that to take a sufficient quantity at night to create a little nausea at the stomach, is the desirable point to be arrived at, and owing to the diffusibility of the medicine, half the quantity only in the morning will be required to have the same effect as it does at night when the body is at rest. If the patient should be quite sick on taking an over dose, by taking a tea-spoonful of medicine clear, or without shaking up the bottle, it will make him vomit gently, or entirely remove the sickness. If the patient should vomit, as soon as you can give another tea-spoonful clear or without shaking the bottle, which will allay all irritation of the stomach, and the patient may rest assured that the cold will be entirely removed. As this effect does not often happen, it is only named to quiet any fears that may arise in the mind.

 The same course may be pursued in all cases of Coughs, Catarrh, Whooping-Coughs, Asthma, or pressure of the lungs by the secretion of impure matter; in all such cases, this course is to be pursued until the patient raises freely without any particular effort, and the cough is perfectly loose and easy. Where extreme sickness succeeds the taking of the medicine, it will be well for the patient to cover up immediately in a warm bed until the effect is carried off, which will not be long.

FIRST STAGE OF CONSUMPTION.—When this insidious disease is suspected, no time should be lost in taking the Elixir. Keep warmly dressed, with flannel next to the body. Exercise as much as your strength will allow in the open air; eat the most nourishing food you can get—do not burthen the stomach with anything like nuts, cake, or unwholesome food. If the skin is hot and dry, the whole body should be sponged with spirits and tepid water as often as once a day. Great benefit will be derived from rubbing the chest well once a day with a mixture composed of equal parts of Kill-Pain, or Henry's Vermont Liniment, and sweet oil. Have a bottle of Elixir by you, and take a small dose every time you have a bad coughing spell—you can soon regulate the dose to your case. On going to bed take a tea-spoonful, in the morning take a light drink of good Bourbon whiskey, with a very little sugar, and not take any Elixir until one hour after eating breakfast. This treatment followed up carefully, has permanently cured many who supposed they had got to die of consumption.

In the second and third stages of this disease, the Elixir, taken in small doses after severe coughing spells, has proved beneficial in most cases; and many a good night's rest has been secured to the afflicted patient by taking one or two tea-spoonfuls of this medicine upon retiring at night.

CROUP.—This disease is confined to children, and the dose should be small. For a child of six months, from ten to thirty drops may be given, repeating the dose once in fifteen minutes until they are easy or vomit.

This Elixir has been successfully used in many cases of female weakness. It has also been found a desirable addition to the Nursery, to soothe and quiet restless children.

Put up hereafter in 2 and 12 oz. bottles. Price 35 cents for the small and one dollar for the large. You get as much in the large bottle for $1 as you would for $2.10, if you buy all small ones to get the same quantity. We do not put up the medium size now.

Running a Time Table.

A BRAKEMAN'S STORY.

I have been a "Railroad man" for a great many years—have, as the expression goes, grown grey in the service. I am certain, however, in all my experience, I never saw a road that was the equal of the Valley Air Line, upon which I was, at the time of the incident about to be related, a brakeman.

The Valley Air Line was one of those roads that spring up suddenly out of the imaginations of a few men. One cannot say that it sprung from their purses, for if they had the seed in them to grow anything, it was never put in the Valley. There was, as nearly as I can now remember, a capital stock, which was never paid up, a little town and village credit, and a large amount of preferred stock, first and second mortgages, etc. As a result, the road was built in a bungling manner, grades were bad, road bed was poor, bridges and culverts were thrown together in the worst possible manner, because the worst was the cheapest. The iron was a light and frail mass, manufactured especially for the American market, while the rolling stock had been worn out in services on other roads and sold to the Valley Air Line on credit and long time.

The reader will see from this truthful statement that the Valley was not the safest road for travelers in the country. It was not. Innumerable were the accidents we had, and it is a wonder to me that none of them were serious. While we had many narrow escapas, we still managed through sheer good luck, slow time, and great care, to get on without breaking bones; but I positively assure you that time did not accustom us to the road, and we never ran into the depot at night without feeling thankful that we were alive. When I say we, I mean the conductor, engineer, baggageman, fireman and myself. How the passengers felt I do not know, but I do know that they ought to have felt as thankful as the roadmen that their bones were in good condition to allow them to walk from the depot to their homes. Ignorance may have been perfect bliss to them, however.

The engineer of our train,—the Lightning Express,—was one of the most sober, careful, thoughtful and industrious men that ever handled a throttle. He possessed more than the ordinary share of thoughtful prudence, of his class, and it was owing to this fact that so great a degree of good fortune came to us.

A few moments before the train was to start one morning, Gardiner, the engineer, called me to his cab. He appeared unusually downcast that morning, though at the best he was by no means a "gay" fellow. "Bob," said Gardiner, after a few seconds talk about general matters, "Bob, I want you to be very careful to-day. I know you are a good fellow and always do your duty well; but to-day I want you to do more. I want you to stand by your brake

N. H. DOWNS'

VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping-Cough, Croup, Asthma, and all diseases of the THROAT, CHEST AND LUNGS.

THIS valuable medicine is purely vegetable; the discovery of which has been the result of many years' close study (while suffering under those formidable diseases which prey upon the organs of the chest) in order to discover the causes, the symptoms and the cure, viz.: Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Colds, Coughs, Pleurisy, Influenza, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that even CONSUMPTION is not incurable, if properly attended to. As consumption at its commencement is but a slight irritation on the membrane which covers the lungs, then an inflammation, when the cough is a little more observable, but rather dry, then becomes local fever, and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks are flushed, and chills are more common. In its next stage the external parts of the lungs themselves begin to participate in the fever, the strength fails, the flesh wastes, and perspiration is common; as debility and emaciation increase, small ulcerations or white hard specks appear, the bowels become irregular, the sleep is disturbed; in the last stages, violent coughing, profuse cold sweats, and constant diarrhoea, with hic-coughs, close the scene. This Elixir, in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritation and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system, by perspiration and otherwise. It facilitates expectoration, and thus relieves the patient from a load of tough phlegm which cannot otherwise be wholly removed from the system. It heals the ulcerated surfaces and relieves the cough and makes breathing easy. It supports the strength, and at the same time reduces the fever. It has at least one peculiar advantage over other articles in common use for the same purposes, it is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough but by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone; consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. It may be relied on as perfectly safe in all cases of cough and irritation of the lungs; the very best medicine for coughs in every fever from commencement to end. It will cure a slight hoarseness and cough when occasioned by a cold, in a few hours, and generally when severe and obstinate, in a few days. It almost invariably cures children of croup, and has in many instances, when eminent physicians considered them past hope, cured them in a few hours.

every second of the trip—not to leave it for a moment, and when I signal, I want you to set them up as you never did before, and promptly too. I know you will do it for me, won't you, Bob?"

I was too astonished to speak for a second, and then I asked: "Why, what under the sun is the matter with you, Gardiner? You know the brakes are so nearly worn out that it is impossible to set them up, and you know too——"

"I know it all, Bob, and that is the reason why I want you to be careful. I am going to try and make the time-table to-day; if it is possible, I will do so. I feel just as though something was going to happen, and am more than half sorry that I promised; but I'll do it though. Now promise me, Bob, and off to your brakes."

I promised and took my post, not a little mistified at Gardiner's words, looks and actions. We left the depot and went rattling on over the iron. Passengers looked at each other in surprise and wondered what under the sun was the matter with the Valley—if it had suddenly awakened from its long sleep, and now proposed to be a railroad in earnest.

When the conductor came through the train, and came along by me, I asked:

"What is the matter with Gardiner this morning?"

"Oh," was the reply, "he and the old man have had a blow-out this morning. You see our train never makes connections—passengers always lay over, and of course they growl. This morning the old man called us into the office and the whole thing was out.—Gardiner talked like a father to them, and, as he grew excited, he said that it was criminal running the road in the condition it was. He told them the time-table, as made up, was fast, even for a first-class road, and if we undertook to run it, a frightful accident could not be avoided. When Gardiner said it was criminal to run the road as it was, Supt. Brown was very hot. He fairly boiled over. He declared that there was no better road in the country, and that Gardiner was a coward who ought to go on to a gravel train, and if he didn't make time he'd have him there, too. The road was losing its business and there had got to be a change. Brown also said that in Valley Creek, where he lived, he had noticed that the train always slowed and lost time enough there to lose the connections. Gardiner replied to this, that at the Creek there was a down grade, the bridge was unsafe, and he was obliged to slack up for safety. More than this, the track passed through the play-ground of the Creek school, was not fenced in, and they could not go through at a rapid speed without danger to the children. Then Brown burst out, with an oath, that if parents did not want their children run over they must keep them off the track. It would be a good thing to run over one or two of them, as it would teach them a lesson. Of course, he didn't mean this, but he was "hot" you see and did not know what he did say. He added, that Gardiner's family lived near the track, and that Gardiner's sole reason for slowing, was to have a chance to chat with them as he went through.

This set Gardiner's anger on fire, and he then and there declared that he would make time, let the consequences be what they might, and if disaster happened, Brown must assume the responsibility.—You see he is keeping his word, but the old fellow feels bad though."

We dashed on over the frail iron at a frightful speed. You could almost hear the bars crackle as we

DR. WOODWARD'S CONCENTRATED STILLINGIA COMPOUND.

For the Cure of Scrofula, in some of its forms, Eruption and Cutaneous Diseases, such as Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Blotches, Boils, Carbuncles, Chronic Ulcers and Chronic Rheumatism, Chronic Affections of the Liver and Spleen, Enlargement of the Bones, Joints and Glands, from Cancerous, Scrofulous and Syphilitic causes, Epilepsy, Chorea or St. Vitus Dance, Dropsical Swellings and certain Constitutional Disorders; besides all Diseases originating from an impure and imperfect state of the blood.

Every Physician understands that there is a class of cases where an alternative is especially indicated, and we claim that this preparation is vastly superior to any of the Sarsaparilla and Yellow Dock Alteratives ever offered to the public, as any educated Physician who has made himself at all acquainted with the effect of STILLINGIA can testify.

The combination, as presented, possesses marked diuretic and laxative properties, which wonderfully increase the alterative effect of the STILLINGIA, thereby assisting greatly to eliminate morbid deposits from the system.

Great pains are taken in its preparation to get the entire strength of all the ingredients, and we believe, for the diseases enumerated, it will give better satisfaction than anything of the kind ever before offered to the profession and the public.

We do not claim that it will cure everything, nor that it is absolutely infallible in all cases for which it is recommended; but we do claim that it is a scientific combination, prepared on scientific principles, and it is better adapted to cases where an alternative is required than any other preparation now in use; and the day is not far distant when the base of the Compound—Stillingia—will stand at the head of the long list of alteratives.

Physicians can be supplied with the Compound at a much cheaper rate than they can prepare it in small quantities; and on application a sample bottle will be furnished any Physician, free of charge, also the formula, that he may know what he is using.

Prepared by J. B. WOODWARD, M. D.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING STILLINGIA COMPOUND.

went. The cars surged from east to west, forcing passengers to fairly cling to their seats. Not for a second did I leave my brake.

We were nearly down to Valley Creek, on time. As we approached the long stretch of down grade, I felt by the shaking that Gardiner had slackened up, as if the danger were really too great; and then, as if his promise had come full upon his mind, had again carefully opened his throttle. Down the Valley we went, our rapid speed startling the birds, the cattle, and even the staid old forest trees into new and strange ideas. I grasped the brake firmly; the engine whistled and screamed, warning all to keep clear of it. I held my breath, well knowing that if we left the track it would be to go to destruction. Suddenly the whistle ceased, and then there came three unearthly yells from it; they pierced my ears and made them ache.—How I set up the brake, for I felt there was danger ahead. I knew this when Gardiner suddenly reversed his engine. The shutting off, the reversing, and the brakes set up so tight that I feared the chains would break, did not seem to have the slightest effect upon the train. On, on, it went, at its dangerously rapid speed. I stretched my neck out as far as possible, clinging nervously to the railing. I could see that Gardiner was at his post, looking out as I did, and moving his hand energetically, while whistle and bell were uniting their protest.

What was the matter I could not conjecture, but was anxious to know. Springing upon the rail, I made my way to the top of the car, and the mystery was revealed. There on the track was a sight that sent a thrill of horror through me. Only a few feet ahead of us on the track, stood a mere child—unconscious of its danger—paralyzed so that it could not move. Just clear of the track lay a woman, evidently helpless. I looked for Gardiner, to see what he was doing ere I closed my eyes to shut out the horrible sight. The poor fellow had not been idle. Plainly seeing that he could not drive the child from the track, and that its companion was helpless, he left his cab and climbed forward on his engine, to the extreme end of the cow-catcher, leaned over, and while clinging with one hand, reached out with the other. There did not seem one chance in a million to save the child—not one,—but anxiety overcame horror, and I looked, and shuddered as I looked.

How my heart leaped into my very throat as I saw the train dash on, but saw that as it did so, Gardiner, with almost superhuman effort, raised the child by its arm from the track and clasped it to his bosom! Then he sank down on the cow-catcher faint and powerless. His fireman clambered out to his side, and you may rest assured I was not long in getting to their assistance.

The unusual noise of the steam had brought every person in the village out to witness the sight, and as they realized it they shouted their joy until their throats must have been hoarse. The fireman and I clung to Gardiner; there was no need to hold the child, for although rigid and helpless, Gardiner held the little one to his breast with an iron grasp. Very soon we crossed the bridge and struck the up grade where the train slowed and finally came to a full stop, nearly in front of Gardiner's house.

With the help of some of the villagers we took by force the child from Gardiner's arms and carried the engineer into the house and laid him on the bed. As he sank down the little life in him seemed

SHAKER ANODYNE!

A Highly Concentrated Compound of VALERIAN.

One of the most valuable medicines ever prepared for the relief of all forms of NEURALGIA, either of the Head, Stomach or Spine—and a sure cure for NERVOUSNESS, HYSTERICS, WAKEFULNESS, HEADACHE, &c. How often you hear the suffering invalid say: "Oh! if I could only sleep nights." Friend, try this ANODYNE just once, and see if we are not telling the truth. It is very carefully prepared, without heat, and is perfectly free from all impurities.

DIRECTIONS.—For an adult, one teaspoonful in sweetened water, once in six or eight hours, as occasion requires. Less for children, according to age.

We add the names of some of the best physicians in the land, who use it in their practice with perfect success:

We have used extensively, for several years, in our practice, "SHAKER ANODYNE," a highly concentrated fluid extract of VALERIAN, and do not hesitate to recommend this as very much SUPERIOR to any other preparation of Valerian now in use. We have the utmost confidence in the faithful manner in which it is prepared, and believe it worthy of the confidence and patronage of the medical profession.

HENRY'S VEGETABLE WORM LOZENGES.

A Pleasant, Safe and Effectual Remedy for Worms.

Of all remedies designed for a special purpose, the great desideratum is to procure the best. Having had occasion to deal largely in vermifuges, many years, and knowing the adaptability of such remedies to the purpose for which they are intended, we have no hesitation in saying that the article we now offer to the public is far superior to all others, inasmuch as it is more effectual in its results, less objectionable on account of the taste, and generally obviates the necessity of taking castor oil, or any other nauseous laxative to carry off the worms; thus acting in the double capacity of a vermifuge and a cathartic, removing the cause of disease, and restoring to health.

In using these Lozenges, as in all other medicine, the exercise of judgment is necessary, as constitutions vary, and what may be a small dose for one, will be a large dose for another. It is better that a low diet be maintained for a day or two before using, and also during their use, as an over-crowded stomach impedes the action of the medicine.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING

HENRY'S WORM LOZENGES.

One to three years old	- - - -	One to two Lozenges, night and morning.
Three to six " "	- - - -	Two to three " "
Six to twelve " "	- - - -	Three to four " "
For adults	- - - -	Five to six " "

In case the above is not found sufficient to move the bowels, take an additional lozenge, or part of a lozenge, or a moderate dose of castor oil, if necessary, so as to produce an evacuation.

These Lozenges are put up in LARGE BOXES, and for sale by all Druggists and dealers in Medicines everywhere. Price, 25 cents a box.

 If you need a COUGH MEDICINE, we advise you to try N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir. No family should be without it in the house. In all cases of Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping-Cough, it cures as if by magic! Perfectly safe for children and adults.

Sold by all Druggists.

Every young man after he has chosen his vocation should stick to it. Don't leave it because hard blows are to be struck, or disagreeable work performed. Those who have worked their way up to wealth and usefulness do not belong to the shiftless and unstable class, but may be reckoned among such as took off their coats, rolled up their sleeves, conquered their prejudices against labor, and manfully bore the heat and burden of the day.

Secrets of Health.—First, keep warm; second, eat regularly and slowly; third, maintain regular bodily habits; fourth, take early and very light suppers; fifth, keep a clean skin; sixth, get plenty of sleep at night; seventh, keep cheerful and respectable company; eighth, keep out of debt; ninth, take Henry & Johnson's "Choice Family medicines," as they always do good and never do hurt.

Good Advice.—If the poor-house has any terror for you, never buy what you don't need. Before you pay three cents for a jews-harp, see if you can't make just as pleasant a noise by whistling, for such nature furnishes the machinery. And before you pay $7 for a figured vest, young man, find out whether your lady love would not be just as glad to see you in a plain one that cost just half the money. If she wouldn't, let her crack her own walnuts, and buy her own clothes.

DR. BOYCES' TONIC BITTERS;

OR

Blood Renovator.

COMPOSED ENTIRELY OF VEGETABLES.

The effect of this medicine is truly wonderful. It acts directly on the bowels and blood and is a mild but thorough Cathartic. It expels all morbid secretions and obstructions from the body, stimulating the internal organs into healthy action, cleansing the system and purifying the blood, causing it to flow anew through every part of the body, giving health and new life to the frame. Are you suffering with any of the diseases that follow a torpid or diseased liver, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bilious Diseases, Foul Stomach, Costiveness or Weakness? Then these Bitters will do you good. MANDRAKE, one of the ingredients of this medicine, is now admitted to be one of the very best agents known for restoring the liver to healthy action; has almost entirely taken the place of Calomel with all good physicians.

THE BABY'S LINEN—EXQUISITE RESPONSE.

AN eminent physician contributes the following useful and capital article to the Hearth and Home:

"An intelligent young mother inquired some days since how she could best preserve her child's linen clean and sweet, when changed frequently during the day. I directed her never to dry it before the fire, but in the sun and open air, if the weather permitted. She followed my directions, but, as is too often the practice, dried and aired it in the nursery window. Her fastidious husband remonstrated in vain against this unseemly exposure. Believing that if she saw her practice as others saw it she would desist, he so directed their afternoon walk as to bring the nursery window in full view from the central part of the town. Stopping abruptly, he pointed to the offending linen flapping conspicuously in the breeze, and asked sarcastically:

"My dear, what is that displayed from our window?"

"Why," she proudly replied, 'that is the flag of our union.'

"Conquered by this pungent retort, he saluted the flag with a swing of his hat, and pressing his wife's arm closer within his own, sang, as they walked homeward, 'And long may it wave.'"

THE SIGNERS OF THE DECLARATION.

We present to our readers the following statistical facts regarding those illustrious men who imperiled their property, their liberty, and their lives by attaching their signatures to that instrument which established our national independence:

The thirteen states, then comprising the American colonies, were represented in the assemblage that passed the measure, by fifty-one members. Thirty-seven enjoyed the benefits of collegiate training; twenty were lawyers; four were physicians; five were clergymen; three were farmers; and the remainder were engaged in various mercantile pursuits, except Roger Sherman, the shoemaker, and Benjamin Franklin, who boasted of being a printer, yet was a Statesman and a philosopher. Benjamin Franklin was the oldest among the members, and Edward Rutledge the youngest. Robert Morris was the most opulent, and was the financier of the administration, negotiating extensive loans for the use of the government upon his personal credit. He died in prison, having been incarcerated for debt; a beautiful commentary on those laws that made no discrimination between the honest but unfortunate debtor and the convicted felon. Daniel Adams was the most needy, his impoverished condition being well known. The management of his pecuniary affairs made it necessary for him to seek a burial at the public expense. Josiah Bartlett was the first to vote for the measure, and first after President Hancock to sign the document. Two of the number, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, were subsequently presidents. It is a remarkable fact that these two men, having been presidents, associated on the committee that framed the "Declaration of Independence," and the first recognized leaders of two great political factions of our country, died on the same day, the 4th of July, 1826, the fiftieth anniversary of the day upon which they had contributed so much to the welfare of their countrymen. Charles Carroll was the only member that added his place of residence, and the reason of its being done in this instance is somewhat peculiar. The patriots that formed that convention knew full well that by their action on that day they hazarded their lives. When Carroll was signing, some one near him remarked, "he will get off, there are so many Carrolls, they will not know which to take." "Not so," replied he, and immediately added "of Carrollton." He lived to see all the memorable men with whom he acted on that eventful day pass away, and enjoyed the prosperity of his country until 1832, when he died in his ninety-fifth year.

The hardest thing to hold in this world is an unruly tongue. It beats a hot smoothing iron and a kicking horse considerably.

HOW TO BE HAPPY.—If you wish to be happy, and to make others so, always be cheerful, and look upon the bright side of everything. It is just as cheap, and three times as good for digestion.

HINTS TO FARMERS.

Don't let your horses be seen standing much at the tavern door; it don't look right.

Don't give the merchant a chance to dun you. Prompt payments make independent men.

Keep good fences, especially line fences; they promote good feelings among neighbors.

Decent, substantial clothing for your children makes them think better of themselves, and keeps the doctors away.

Don't starve your land; if you do you will grow lean.

Don't become surety for him who waits for the sheriff.

A farmer, who had an invariably good-natured wife, longed to hear her scold for a change, and was advised that a load of crooked firewood would make her very desirably cross. He tried it in vain. When the pile was gone, he asked her if he should get such another supply. "O, yes," said she, "for that crooked wood you brought before does lie around the pot so nicely." He never tried again.

If you have a yoke of oxen don't be ashamed of them, and give your note for a span of horses.

DR. JOHNSON'S CALISAYA BITTERS.

A Superior Combination of Barks, Roots and Herbs.

Are you suffering with Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, Weakness, and General Debility? Then try a bottle of these Bitters, and see how quickly they will make you feel like a new person. Have you just had some debilitating disease, and want a good reliable Tonic? You have it in Johnson's Calisaya Bitters, as they are made from pure Calisaya Bark, which any good physician will tell you is one of the best tonics known, it being the "Peruvian Bark" from which Quinine is obtained, and the bitters might justly be called "Quinine Tonic Bitters," as that is what they really are. They are not put up for a "whiskey tippie," but for a good Tonic Medicine.

DIRECTIONS.

Adult persons who take these Bitters to give them an appetite, should use about a small wine-glass full three times a day, just before eating.

Aged people will find these Bitters to be just what they want, to give them strength and assist nature.

Price, $1.00 per bottle.

The shades of night were falling fast,
As through a Down East city passed
A boy, who hastened straight ahead,
And ever as he ran he said,

"Henry's Worm Lozenges."

When people asked him, why so quick?
He said, the baby's very sick,
And I was told in haste to come,
And with all speed to get him some

"Henry's Worm Lozenges."

The neighbors all have tried them well,
And they most wond'rous stories tell
Of children cured of many ills,
By giving them, instead of pills,

"Henry's Worm Lozenges."

That boy, and the neighbors all, were evidently sensible people, to use Henry's Worm Lozenges—as the Lozenges are made from pure Santonine, which is the active principle of worm seed and may be relied on as purely Vegetable and are perfectly safe and sure to remove worms.

They are very pleasant to the taste, children eat them same as candy. We warrant them free from mineral poison.

Mothers should never be without them in the house, as prompt action saves life many times. Children troubled with worms are liable to have worm fits and other sudden attacks of disease. The same might be said of adults. Ask for HENRY'S Worm Lozenges, and take no other!

Don't run for constable; you may get the office and let the plow stand.

Teach your boys to look up and forward, never down nor backward.

Don't leave to memory what should be written; it makes lawsuits.

When the labors of the day are past, let good books and newspapers invite the youngsters to the sitting-room.

Retail 25 cts. a box, and sold everywhere.

HENRY & JOHNSON, Proprietors.

to come back, and he whispered: "Whose child is it?"

"Superintendent Brown's," said a neighbor, to my astonishment.

"Is it alive?" gasped Gardiner.

"It is alive and well—thanks to your bravery," I answered, and Gardiner sank back upon his pillow.

The child which Gardiner had so miraculously saved, was a son and only child of our Superintendent. It seemed singular that the morning talk of the two men should have so singular an ending; but so it was. The wife of the Superintendent with their only child had been out for a walk.—The little one running on ahead had strayed upon the track. Hearing the whistle, the mother called the child to her, but the child, happy in its freedom, ran on, laughing and shouting, child-like, into the jaws of danger. It was too much for the mother; she made an effort to save her darling, but before she could overtake the little one, her strength failed her and she fell.

Our engine was injured so that it was impossible to go on, and another was telegraphed for. We tried all we could to bring Gardiner back, but the physician said that the excitement under which the noble fellow had labored, had prostrated him, and it would require the greatest care and a long time to bring him back to life. He had that care, you may rest assured. I was in Gardiner's house when Supt. Brown came in that night. The "old man," as we called him, had lost all sign of his anger, and he wept like a child as he looked upon the strong man thus prostrate before him. He visited the patient daily, and his very life seemed to hang upon Gardiner's recovery, and when the danger was passed, the long fever which ensued was broken, and the engineer began to recover, the Superintendent was as happy as a child.

I may say, in conclusion, that the incident was not without its result, for at once the Valley Road was thoroughly rebuilt in the best possible manner, newly stocked, and is to-day one of the best roads in the country, running its trains on time and giving great delight to the traveling public; thanks to the enterprise and energy of Supt. GARDINER, a kind-hearted, grey-haired gentleman, who is ranked among the best railroad men in the country. I go down twice a year to see him, and we always talk about the day when he undertook to run his time-table and the result thereof.

This thrilling little sketch illustrates in a very striking manner the noble qualities of a class of men of whom we are very little accustomed to think in this connection,—namely, railroad men. People have become so accustomed to this expeditious mode of traveling, in comfortable, even luxurious carriages, without personal trouble or responsibility, as to regard it as a natural state of things; and forget that such results can only be attained by constant labor and unremitting care and faithfulness on the part of these men, whom we are so ready to reproach and blame. The fact that we so readily trust our lives in their hands, proves that we believe them to possess these qualities of faithfulness and fidelity; and how often do we see it proved in deeds of heroism as grand as were ever witnessed on the field of battle: when conductor, engineer, fireman or brakeman goes on to certain death, if by doing so he has one chance to save those committed to his care!

KILL-PAIN!
OR PAIN RELIEVER.

A PURELY VEGETABLE PREPARATION,

For the Immediate and Permanent cure of all Internal and External Pain. There is no Pain Curer, Pain Killer, or Pain Extractor in the world superior to this Medicine.

 Read carefully, FULL DIRECTIONS WITH EACH BOTTLE.

COLD—"TAKING COLD."

Changes from warm to cool weather, or going to sleep in a room not properly aired, are said to occasion "a severe cold" not unattended with danger. No doubt suppressed perspiration often occasions a severe illness, because by the pores of the skin, in health, we evaporate two ounces of perspiration per hour, forty-eight ounces per day. No wonder, then, we are sick when this ordination of nature goes not on with regularity.

Kill-Pain is used with great success in breaking up a cold in its first stages,—(after it is seated on the Lungs N. H. Downs' Elixir is the best expectorant now in use.) The patient should hasten (the very moment he feels chilly and as though he had taken cold) and take a foot bath, just as hot as can be borne, and cover up warm in bed; then bathe the soles of the feet well with Kill-Pain, and take one teaspoonful in nearly half a pint of warm water; add milk, and sweeten to suit the taste; and in twenty minutes repeat the dose, unless perspiration starts freely.

The Kill-Pain acts promptly in equalizing the circulation of blood, thereby assisting nature very much to throw off disease by perspiration and otherwise. As a family Remedy it is very valuable, for the permanent cure of Neuralgia (see full directions for treating Neuralgia in circular around each bottle), common Cold, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Nervous or Sick Headache, Bowel Complaint, Chronic Rheumatism, Fever and Ague, Crick in the back, weak Nerves, Spinal affections, Pain in the Head, Inflammation or Pain of any kind, Sore Throat, &c. We refer the reader to the full directions around each bottle, and feel confident, if you try one bottle and learn HOW to use Kill-Pain, you will never be without it in the house. If you are very Bilious, and Liver inactive, Dr. Johnson's Compound Mandrake Pills (Podophyllin) will assist very much to effect a speedy cure.

Kill-Pain retails, small size, 25 cents; large, 50 cts., and is sold by dealers in medicines everywhere.

 Remember KILL-PAIN is an internal and external remedy, and it is well in cases of violent pain or suffering to take a dose before applying it externally.

Please READ AND CIRCULATE.

Could we for a moment see the world set back to its pre-railroad state, we could realize, more fully than we shall ever be able to do, the obligations we owe to railroad companies, and should perhaps be less ready to seek for faults in these valuable public servants.

Next to the railroad man, or perhaps standing side by side with him as a valuable public servant, is the Physician. Entirely overlooking his own comfort and convenience, he devotes himself to relieving the pains and saving the lives of his fellow creatures. Through summer's heat and winter's cold, through rain and snow, he goes, often in weariness and exhaustion, to administer healing medicines to the sick. Well and truly may the physician be called a benefactor of mankind. Nor is he less a public benefactor, who places carefully compounded, safe and efficient medicines, all ready to be administered, within the reach of all—with full and explicit directions, so simple as to be understood by a child. By these medicines, so conveniently at hand, disease may be attacked and overcome at its first appearance; when it might be impossible to obtain a physician, or when, as is often the case, the illness seems so slight at first, we think it is not worth while to call him in. When if we have at hand some tried and true medicine, which we can administer ourselves, we attend to it at once, and thus save long sickness many times, and even life itself.

MANY OF HENRY & JOHNSON'S "CHOICE FAMILY PREPARATIONS"

Have been before the American and Canadian People for more than a quarter of a Century.

N. H. DOWNS' VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR was first introduced over forty years ago, and has had a remarkable history—it has won its way by actual service, until it has become a household friend in thousands of our best families—regular Physicians use and recommend it. Clergymen, and all public Speakers, are its best patrons. Rail Road Employees, much exposed to Colds, Coughs, &c., should always use it. Farmers, Lawyers, Merchants, and everybody, old and young, speak highly in its praise.

Why do all speak so highly in praise of DOWNS' ELIXIR? Because it invariably cures Coughs, Colds, Croup, and all Lung difficulties, and is perfectly safe to give to the youngest child. Mothers should always keep a bottle ready for immediate use in time of need.

In conclusion we wish to say, all of our Medicines are prepared Scientifically and are PURELY VEGETABLE. We use no Mineral Poison whatever, in any of our Valuable Remedies.

 Our medicines are supposed to be for sale by some one in every city and town in the United States and the Dominion. If you do not find them in your town, please ask your Merchant or Druggist to order some at once from any wholesale Druggist.

These Podophyllin or concentrated MANDRAKE PILLS are a

DR. JOHNSON'S COMPOUND MANDRAKE PILLS.

A Purely Vegetable Preparation.

Composed of Mandrake, Hyoseyamus, and other valuable ingredients.

MANDRAKE is Cathartic, Emetic, Alterative, Anthelmintic, Hydragogue and Sialagogue, as a sure and active cathartic it deserves a high rank among our indigenous productions. We have no other native plant that answers the common purpose of Jalap, Aloes and Rhubarb, and which is more safe and mild in its operation. It acts principally as a cathartic, if the doses administered are moderate.

It promotes glandular action, exerting also a powerful influence on the condition of the cutaneous tissue, and regulates the circulatory system.

In bilious and typhoid febrile diseases, it is very valuable as a cathartic, or Emetic-Cathartic, often breaking up the disease at once.

A moderate use of Mandrake is effectual in Chronic Liver Complaint, and indeed in all hepatic derangements.

The best medical work in this country says of it: "There is not its superior in the whole range of medicines, arousing the liver to a more healthy action, increasing the flow of bile, and keeping up these actions longer than any other agent with which we are acquainted.

It promotes free action of the kidneys, arousing the absorbents being a regulator of all secretions, so far as any one medicine can be, and exerts a complete influence over the pathologic condition of the blood, preventing its strong determination to any part where congestion or incipient inflammation would be produced—as for instance, in the brain.

HYOSCYAMUS is a powerful narcotic. In medicinal doses it is anodyne, hypnotic and anti-spasmodic; allaying pain, soothing excitability, inducing sleep and arresting spasm.

It does not produce constipation like opium, but has a tendency to act as a laxative.

Is good in Chronic Cough, irritation of the urinary organs and inflammatory cases attended with excitability, painful spasmodic affections, hysteria, rheumatism and gout. It is much used by physicians in connection with griping cathartics, to counteract the disagreeable effects.

There are other very valuable ingredients used in preparing these Pills and the proprietors assure all who use them that they do not contain mercury or any mineral substance whatever.

DIRECTIONS.

FOR SICK AND NERVOUS HEADACHE, (induced by costiveness.) Indigestion, Foul breath, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, and all Bilious disorders, take from one to two Pills on going to bed and repeat every night until you have taken from twelve to sixteen, unless you get relief before.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, take one Pill every morning a half hour before breakfast, for three mornings and then omit for three mornings, leaving tea and coffee alone for the time, and eat very little highly seasoned or greasy food,—and continue this treatment until you get relief.

FOR NEURALGIA, take from one to two Pills on going to bed, and bathe the part affected with "Dr. Downing's Kill-Pain."—Read carefully the other side of this circular.

FOR RHEUMATISM AND GOUT take two Pills on retiring at night for three nights, then omit three nights, and so continue until better.

FOR DROPSY, Pains in the Side, Back, Stomach, Limbs or joints, same dose as for rheumatism.

FOR NIGHT SWEATS, or Cold feet, or Wakefulness the same as above.

FOR FEVER AND AGUE in the first stage of the disease, take two Pills on retiring at night, and one Pill half an hour before breakfast, and continue until relieved.

Price, 25 cents per box.

Dose, 1 to 2 Pills. Judgment should be used as constitutions vary.

MANDRAKE PILLS are the best Liver Regulator now in use, and are perfectly safe in all cases. Try them.

Standard Preparation, and are used by many of our best Physicians. Warranted Free from Mineral Poison.

DR. WAHOMONOGO'S 15 INDIAN PILE REMEDY.

A safe and certain Cure for Hæmorrhoids or Piles.

Burlington, Vt., May 8, 1873.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I have this day transferred to Henry & Johnson (of Burlington, Vt.) the full control of Dr. Wahomonogo's Indian Pile Remedy, and have taught them the "Secret" how to manufacture the same. All orders should be addressed to them.

RANSOM COLBETH.

In assuming the Proprietorship of "Dr. Wahomonogo's Indian Pile Remedy" we have only to say we do sincerely believe it to be the best, the surest and safest Remedy for Piles yet discovered.

"Itching Piles" can be positively cured; also Blind and Bleeding Piles.

"Itching Piles" may be recognized by a fine Rash under the skin scarcely perceptible and almost colorless, producing a very disagreeable and distressing "Itching," as though an innumerable number of Pin worms were crawling in and about the rectum. It is generally preceded by ordinary Piles.

 We invite our friends to give this valuable medicine a trial if suffering with ordinary Piles, for the longer you delay the harder it is to effect a cure. We guarantee satisfaction in every case when faithfully used according to directions.

Remember this Ointment is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless!

DIRECTIONS.

Wash carefully with tepid water and castile soap once a day.

Stir the contents of the bottle with a splinter, then apply the Ointment with the ball of the finger. For internal Piles, it should be applied with a candle by inserting it from two to four inches. The application should be made twice in twenty-four hours.

Price $1.00 per Bottle—Sold by all Druggists.

HENRY & JOHNSON, Proprietors,

To whom it may concern:

In August, 1869, coming from Ogdens-burgh I was taken with Piles. I used Dr. Wahomonogo's Indian Pile Remedy and was cured, after using the medicine according to directions, and have had no return of the difficulty since.

JO. D. HATCH,
President of Board of Aldermen.
East Rutland, May 2, 1870.

Dear Sir.—My wife has been troubled with the tumor piles and I have tried five different doctors and medicines but to no effect, until your remedy, the Indian Pile Remedy. I procured a bottle immediately. The first application gave her great relief and after using one bottle she was completely cured. I can therefore speak in much praise of this valuable medicine.

P. LYNCH.

 We have certificates from nearly every Physician in Burlington and vicinity and guarantee every one genuine. You have only to try this medicine which has cured so many, and then you too, can "certify" with great joy.

DOWN'S' ELIXIR.

When the chilling winds of winter
Howl amid the leafless branches,
When from out the North the Storm King
Marches with his snowy Banners,—
And with fierce and sudden conquest
Lays all summer dead before him:
Every flower and every leaflet
He lays stark and dead before him;
And the singing birds of summer
Fly away from all the Northland,
Where the air seems full of arrows,
Full of sharp and stinging arrows
That will pierce us, if we venture
But to step outside the doorway,
Then Consumption, fell destroyer,
Sallies forth to seek his victims.

Coughs and Colds are his forerunners,
Marking where success is easy;
And, where these are not resisted
But allowed to hold possession,
There Consumption, gaunt and ghastly,
Soon will make his dread appearance,
And will seize his hapless victims.

Would you have a sure protection
From this foe, so justly dreaded?
A protection so unfailing
That you need not fear his visits?
Go and Buy some DOWN'S' ELIXIR,
Some real N. H. Down's' Elixir;
Made from all most healing Balsams
Found in all the Northern forests,—
Balsams of the Pine and Fir tree:
Made in Burlington—a city
Standing near the Champlain waters;
At one hundred twenty-seven,
Very near the head of Church Street,
By the firm of HENRY & JOHNSON,
Medicine men, well known to many:
And for sale at every Drug Store
Throughout all the frozen Northland.

'Tis a safe and sure protection,
Go and buy it, and be happy.

HENRY & JOHNSON, Burlington, Vt.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ALREADY know the worth of N. H. DOWN'S' ELIXIR, and know just HOW to use it, but if any one does not get the desired effect we advise them to increase the dose and follow directions around each bottle, carefully. Life is precious and medicines should be taken promptly and at the right time. The large bottles are much cheaper in long standing Pulmonary complaints, as you should use the Elixir freely.

Price, small bottle, 35 cts. Large, $1.00.

DR. HENRY'S ELECTRIC OINTMENT

Cures Scratches, Calks, Galls, Flesh Wounds, Salt Rheum, &c.

1 to 6 applications will cure the worst cases of Scratches. 1 to 2 applications will cure Galls, Flesh Wounds and Chapped Hands. 4 to 6 applications will cure Founder when in its early stage, (after the disease is seated it cannot be wholly cured.) This Ointment, however, will prove very beneficial. 1 to 2 applications will cure Cow's sore teats. Farmers, try it.

HENRY'S ELECTRIC OINTMENT used according to directions, with JOHN-SON'S CONDITION POWDERS, is warranted to cure Scratches.

DIRECTIONS.

For Scratches, clean the part affected with Castile Soap; apply once a day enough to moisten the sore; rub it in thoroughly with the fingers. Never in any case use hot irons, nor pick the scab off, which will form after the first application. For Founders, apply to the coronary ring, (the point where the skin joins the hoofs,) also to the frog of the hoof, once in three days. For Galls, Calks, Flesh Wounds, Chapped Hands, Salt Rheum, &c., apply every day until healed, always observing to rub it in thoroughly. For Salt Rheum, first cleanse the blood.

PRICE 50 CENTS.

JOHNSON'S CELEBRATED CONDITION POWDERS.

For HORSES, CATTLE and SWINE.

These Powders may be given with great advantage in all cases of worms, loss of appetite, roughness of the hair or coat, stoppage of water and bowels, all coughs and colds, inflammation of the lungs and bowels, recent founders, swelling of the glands of the throat, horse distemper, hide bound, and also will check the heaves, and in recent cases effect a cure. In fact, there is no disease among horses, cattle and swine where these valuable Powders are not called for, and by their timely administration they will save the lives of many valuable animals.

DIRECTIONS.

The dose for a horse is from one to two tablespoonfuls, according to severity of attack, in any feed a horse will eat, mixed in a little water. The same for cattle, and a little less for swine. For the young of either of the above, about one-half the dose. In severe cases, when the animals refuse to eat, it will be necessary to increase the dose a little, and mix it with a ball of meal and force it down the throat.

Price 25 cents, or Five Packages for One Dollar.
